A combination of five English flower essences first developed by Dr. Edward Bach, promoting calm and balance
in diverse situations of stress, emergency, and trauma

Primary Indications:

- * This is a fundamental component of any emergency relief program. The Five-Flower Formula promotes calm and stability in any emergency or time of stress. It alleviates panic, disorientation, and shock, and helps the individual to cope with on-going trauma or pain.
- * Emergency or Crisis — Calms mental levels of pain, suffering, and confusion — use for the person who is suffering as well as those who are helping.
- * Recovery from Trauma — Promotes recovery from trauma, injury or illness, by relieving stress, anxiety and tension.
- * Baseline Remedy for All Healing — Stabilizes and calms the mind-body interface, before addressing specific emotions and behavior patterns.
- * Calms Children — Use after household accidents, falls, scrapes, or burns, along with appropriate physical care.
- * Aids Animals — To pacify wild or trapped animals, or to help any injured or stressed pet, or when transporting any animal.
- * Plant Protection — Use whenever transplanting to reduce shock, or in vases of cut flowers.
- * Prevention — Use before known stressful situations such as visits to the dentist, preparation for surgery, labor and delivery, travel or moving.
- * Post-Trauma — Use for post-traumatic stress of any kind, including surgery, war, rape, natural disaster, or loss of one's loved ones or home.
