Magenta Blossoms
To Encourage
Self-Healing
Potential and Physical Vitality

Primary Indications:

- * As a foundational remedy in any wellness program; helping the body-soul to move toward a deeper level of health
- * For recovery from any major illness or surgery, to access deeper reserves of self-healing capacity
- * When healing progress for any trauma or illness seems stagnant; helping to boost immune forces by stimulating greater body-soul integration
- * For deeper insight into any illness or trauma, moving beyond materialistic causes to deeper soul-spiritual realization
- * To help children bolster immune forces during key developmental stages, growth curves or typical childhood illnesses
- * For animals who need to access sustained healing forces during illness or after surgery or other trauma

Positive qualities: Profound recovery from illness leading to deep restoration and rejuvenation; sustained healing capacity and endurance even during severe illnesses, physical accidents or trauma; ability to develop new capacities of bodily resilience and soul insight as an outcome of illness, trauma or disease; core immunity through accessing deeper levels of soul consciousness

Patterns of imbalance: Lowered immunity and vitality as a result of prolonged illness or disease; bifurcation of bodily and soul forces during illness and disease; inability to bring deeper insight, understanding or positive soul direction when challenged by a devastating illness, physical trauma or disease; loss of Self-knowing due to overwhelming medical procedures and related external processes that numb or paralyze the soul
